How can we characterize animal movement with stochastic differential equations?

Velocity is obtained by differentiating location with respect to continuous time.

(Continuous Time Correlated Random Walk, Johnson et al. 2008)